

Sonali Karnick - BIO

Sonali Karnick is currently hosting All In A Weekend, broadcast Saturday and Sunday mornings on CBC Radio, from 6-9am across the province.

Sonali started at CBC in 2000, working for Daybreak and Homerun in various roles from researcher and traffic reporter to story producer for the federal and provincial elections. In 2005, she took on the role of sports reporter on Daybreak. Sonali built a solid reputation in radio and television, reporting both locally and nationally on professional and amateur sports, including the Stanley Cup Playoffs, the Women's World Cup of Soccer in Germany in 2011, and at the Sochi 2014 Winter Olympic Games. Sonali is still a huge sports fan and regularly yells at the television when the Habs are on!

Among other things, Sonali does stand-up comedy in her spare time. She is also an avid cook and a voracious reader. She grew up on Montreal's West Island and graduated from Concordia University with a double major in Journalism and Communications.
